LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND LABOR,
BUREAU OF THE CENSUS,
Washington, D. C., July 6, 1909.

SIR:

I have the honor to transmit herewith Census Bulletin 98, containing a description of the supervisors' districts into which the United States has been divided for the Thirteenth Census, prepared by Mr. Charles S. Sloane, geographer.

Section 9 of an act entitled "An Act To provide for the Thirteenth and subsequent decennial censuses," approved July 2, 1909, provides:

That the Director of the Census shall, at least six months prior to the date fixed for commencing the enumeration at the Thirteenth and each succeeding decennial census, designate the number, whether one or more, of supervisors of census for each State and Territory, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Porto Rico, and shall define the districts within which they are to act; except that the Director of the Census, in his discretion, need not designate supervisors for Alaska and the Territory of Hawaii, but in lieu thereof may employ special agents as hereinafter provided. The supervisors shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate: Provided, That the whole number of supervisors shall not exceed three hundred and thirty: And provided further, That so far as practicable and desirable the boundaries of the supervisors' districts shall conform to the boundaries of the congressional districts.

In accordance with the above provision, the United States has been divided into three hundred and thirty (330) supervisors' districts, exclusive of Alaska and Hawaii. The boundaries of each supervisor's district have been made to conform to a congressional district, so far as practicable, taking into consideration the density of population and the difficulty of communication, except that, in a few of the large cities and several states, it is obvious that the work can be better and more efficiently conducted by following the practice of previous censuses, and placing the entire state or city under one supervisor. Each district as described will be under the direct charge of a supervisor of census.

I have included in the bulletin a set of sketch maps, showing the outlines of the counties, also the boundaries of each supervisor's district, and its population in 1900. Wherever the figures could be obtained the results of state and Federal enumerations taken since 1900 have been inserted.

Very respectfully,

Director.

Hon. CHARLES NAGEL,
Secretary of Commerce and Labor.
